

Fan Club Activity

Are you a fan???

Music?

Sports?

Television?

Movies?

STEPS:

1. You will decide on a person, group, or team's fan club web site you would like to plan.
2. Visit other fan club web sites on line and, in MS Word, create a list of what kind of information you would like to include on the site. You don't have to include all the detail—just the topics. For instance, a band's website might include music, history...what else? Be sure to include your name and period # in the footer.
3. Using the Word drawing tools, demonstrate the following web layouts and label the content to be included on each page. How would you organize the content for this site?

This activity is designed to get you thinking about content and organization so you can build the site efficiently. You will also be exposed to the various ways sites can be organized to determine which layout will be the most appropriate for the information being displayed.
